

c-Site® Copyright Applications

c-Site® allows you to apply for copyright protection of a Web site, computer program, literary piece, or any academic work. After c-Site® has been purchased, start your copyright application by clicking the Setup button. Existing applications that have not already been filed may be edited. However, applications that have already been filed cannot be edited. To start a copyright application:

1. Click Start New Application.

2. Answer some basic questions about your work and complete the copyright application.
3. Submit your work for review.
